

Lloyd George Irish Policy Upheld By House of Commons

Defeats Motion to Censure Government for Initiating Negotiations, 439 to 43

Premier to Act Will Give Ulster Parliament More Power Unless Irish Question Is Soon Settled

(By The Associated Press)
London, Oct. 31.—The government obtained its expected mandate from the house of commons tonight to proceed with the Irish negotiations. The unionist motion censuring the government for initiating the Irish negotiations was voted down, 439 to 43.

The premier also achieved another of his oratorical victories before an expectant audience. So far as the movement of protest was designed to draw information as to the proceedings of the conference, it failed; the premier gave no information as to what had been decided, or is being discussed regarding Mr. DeValera's claims to independence and the remotest attempt to arrange concessions from Ulster for a united Ireland.

One piece of information the premier did give. It was that unless something happened within a few days, presumably in the conference, to solve the unsettled status of Ireland's two governments, steps would be taken to give the Ulster parliament the powers necessary to make it a real government.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that the time to question the negotiations was when he first proposed them to the Sinn Fein by public correspondence last July. Much of his speech was devoted to holding before the commons the prospect of a renewal of guerrilla warfare if the conference broke down.

He declared the first thing the government would have to do would be to ask the house to strengthen the crown forces, but pointed out the cost of renewed warfare and the reluctance of the country to incur greater taxation and risk more young men's lives. He asserted the government's resolve to refuse concessions which would weaken the empire, but to explore all paths to an honorable peace, and emphasized the fact that any arrangement must be ratified by parliament.

Few Leaders Speak.

The motion was proposed by Colonel John Grettton, Unionist, and seconded by Rupert S. Gwynne. No conspicuous leaders spoke in its support. Those who most strongly advocated the policy of the motion laid much stress on their protests against negotiating with men who have been denied allegiance by the crown.

Arthur Henderson, in behalf of the laborites, explained that that party favored the negotiations, although opposing what he termed the previous policy of repression and retaliation.

Former Premier Asquith supported the government but deprecated the suggestion that renewal of the war was the only alternative if the conference failed. This point of view finds adherents among a section of the Irish experts, who believe that a breakdown of the conference might be followed by continuance of the truce, pending further efforts of diplomacy.

The comment of one veteran parliamentarian was that Mr. Lloyd George's talk of further war was not intended as a warning to the Sinn Fein, but to parliament not to harass those engaged in the negotiations.

The prime minister said that a very grave issue had been raised as to the proceedings conducted by the government and it was quite clear that there was a section in the house who had given their loyal support to the government in the main, but who were full of misgivings with regard to this particular action, and he felt it was essential that the situation should be cleared as soon as possible, so that they might know what the view of the house really was. He thought the movers of the resolution had put the case temperately and skillfully but much they had said was not germane to the resolution. It was true there had been breaches of trust. These had been investigated and so far as they could be put right, they had been. Guarantees had been received which the other side was doing its best to carry out.

Dealing with the complaint of Captain Charles Craig, leader of the Ulster Unionists in the house, that necessary powers had not been conferred on the government of Northern Ireland, the premier explained that the government of Ireland act provided that these powers should be conferred on the two parliaments simultaneously. If the southern parliament did not come into existence, he declared, something in the nature of a crown colony would be set up; then powers would be conferred simultaneously upon that and the Ulster government.

Crown Colony Inevitable.

The negotiations had intervened and the government thought it was inadvisable to set up a crown colony until it was known how the negotiations would end. He was sure this was paralyzing the activities of the Ulster government and the present condition was intolerable. He then gave to Captain Craig his pledge that unless something happened, one way or another, in the next few days, the government would put the position right. It would either transfer the necessary powers to the northern parliament under the provisions of the act if that were legally possible, or, otherwise, it would ask parliament to pass a short act for the purpose.

The motion as presented in parliament was divided into two sections, the first, an expression of grave apprehension that the government had entered into negotiations with men who had repudiated the authority of the crown, and second, that the sanction of parliament ought to have been obtained for the actual proposals made.

"No compact can come into effect without the authority of parliament," said Mr. Lloyd George. "Every detail will be submitted to parliament. The agreement, if there be an agreement, will have to be in the form of an act of parliament. Is it suggested that the government ought to come to the house and say: 'We want your sanction for this or that proposal?' (Cries of "why not?")

"No negotiations could possibly be conducted like that. There must be some latitude. There are certain basic principles, but these have been agreed to by the house repeatedly. (Cries of "What are they?")

"They have been declared time after time and we stand by them. We have declared to parliament repeatedly that the government are prepared to meet any representatives of the Irish people who could deliver the goods. I am prepared to meet anyone who can make a good bargain on behalf of the population of Ireland."

Parliament Stirred to Cheers.

The time to challenge the conference, said the prime minister, was when his letter was written in July, in response to the king's speech at Belfast; if the same motion had been put down, with a demand from 40 or 50 members for discussion, he would have wasted no time in giving them an opportunity.

"I am now invited," he went on, "to state what the opinions of the government are, in the middle of a conference, on the subjects discussed there. There are two kinds of conference, the open conference, at which no business is ever transacted, though it encourages the faithful and the conference of closed doors, which is the only conference at which you can do business. Then there is the conference of partial disclosure, which has all the vices and none of the virtues of the other two, and is the way to disaster.

"Without caring one iota myself, the house of commons must either trust its negotiators, or replace them. (Loud cheers.) I want to know, my colleagues, I want to know whether you want us to make peace. If you do not, there will be one glad man who will go to his sovereign and say, 'I hand in my portfolio.' (Cheers.)

"If we discuss the matter in this house, there will be no conference. For the moment, the government know that the sympathies of Ireland are behind those people. The only thing the government can do is to treat them as the representatives of the people. I admit that all of the Sinn Fein declared for a republic, that all the Sinn Fein repudiated the authority of the crown, but if we are not going to deal with them for that reason, there is no one in Ireland to deal with."

NEW ORLEANS IS 1922 CONVENTION CITY OF LEGION

Selection a Noteworthy Feature of Yesterday's Busy Session of Soldiers' Gathering at Kansas City

(By The Associated Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 31.—Receipt of messages of felicitation from abroad and at home, a memorial service in honor of the late Frederick W. Galbraith of Indianapolis, former national commander, and the usual organization routine preliminary to getting down to work, consumed the opening session today of the American Legion's national convention.

Adjournment was taken late in the afternoon and the delegates marched to the station to meet Marshal Foch and General Pershing.

From Italy and Belgium came word of faith in America and in the legion. President Harding sent a message that was closer to his heart than the welfare of the former service men. Many military organizations, including the United Confederate Veterans and Grand Army of the Republic, sent greetings, while good wishes came from Marshal Foch and General Pershing.

The convention was aroused to the greatest pitch of excitement during the afternoon session when General Diaz and General Jacques delivered their addresses.

Major General John J. Lejeune, commander-in-chief of the marine corps, told what it meant to be a marine during the war. He was followed by General Robert McBride of Indianapolis, senior vice commander and representing the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who delivered a message of greeting on behalf of his organization.

New Orleans Wins Convention.

Mrs. Nell Berger, president of the Missouri W. C. T. U., spoke for her organization and extended its support to the legion in its campaign for congressional legislation providing compensation for soldiers.

On a roll call vote tonight, New Orleans was chosen as the 1922 convention city.

Efforts to combat the unemployment situation as it affects the former service men were set forth in the annual report of Adjutant Lemuel Bolles.

He suggested stimulation of public works, a more rigorous exclusion of aliens and a systematic effort on the part of local posts and departments to find work for the 900,000 former soldiers, said by the report to be jobless.

The report of the national treasurer, Robert H. Tyndall, showed a balance of $608,933.99 as against $471,117.37 a year ago.

The organization was extended materially during the year, according to the report more than 1,050 posts having been added. Departments were created in Mexico, Panama, the Philippines, France, British Isles, Argentine republic and Canada, while posts were extended to 12 additional countries.

The women's auxiliary, an autonomous organization but closely related, Mr. Bolles reported, increased its membership from 11,865 to 121,440 in 12 months and the number of units grew from 1,332 to 3,618.

The report of the national judge advocate announced that every possible precaution has been taken to protect the legion's emblem from infringement.

A report of $55,627 was shown in the report of the legion publishing company, which publishes the "American Legion Weekly."

Tribute to Galbraith's Memory.

At the request of Commander Emory the convention arose and stood for half a minute in silent tribute to the memory of the late Commander Galbraith. Mr. Emory then delivered his report to the convention.

"Sinh in the past years we have been to beat adjusted compensation cannot ultimately succeed," Commander Emory told the legion. "No flag is settled until it is settled right."

"The American people are the court of last resort and wherever the American people have by ballot passed judgment on the matter of adjusted compensation that judgment has been an endorsement of the Legion's stand."

"I cannot conceive of a Congress so derelict in its duty, so unmindful of its just obligation to those who served their country at great financial loss, or so blind to the wishes of our people as to be misled again into refusing to adjust the economic balance between the man who went to war and the man who did not."

Commander Emory reported that in the face of adverse industrial conditions, which have hit the ex-service men harder than any other class, the legion has gained in strength and its financial position has steadily improved."

Would Extend Political Clause.

He suggested that the political clause in the legion's constitution, which "will not permit any one who holds or is seeking a salaried elective public office to hold office in the legion or in any department or post thereof," be extended to include appointive offices. He added that he felt that "no person in public life, in community, state or nation, should be allowed to speak for the legion, and that the legion must be allowed to continue to speak for itself when issues involving service men are concerned, and then in terms which the world will understand."

Greetings from Marshal Foch of France and General John J. Pershing, enroute to Kansas City to attend the legion convention, were read by the national commander. The message from Marshal Foch read:

"To my brave comrades of the American Legion: Today you assembled in your third annual convention. I send you greetings that come from the heart of one soldier to another."

'UNKNOWN' WAR HERO HONORED

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill Chosen to Represent Infantry at Armistice Day Ceremonies

REGULAR ARMY MAN

Heroism of Virtually Unknown War Veteran Revealed by General Pershing's Action

Washington, Oct. 31.—Examination of war records by General Pershing has resulted in the designation of Sergeant Samuel Woodfill as the American infantryman who, through heroism in the World War, is most entitled to represent the infantry branch of the army at the Armistice Day ceremonies for America's unknown soldier.

Sergeant Woodfill, whose home is Bellmore, Ind., but who now is stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., arrived in Washington today in response to orders from the war department and on being received by Secretary Weeks, was informed his act of heroism was regarded by his former commander as "outstanding" among the exploits of all the infantry officers and men who saw service in France.

The act of Sergeant Woodfill which caused General Pershing to place him as a virtually unknown hero—with Sergeant Alvin York, of the Tennessee mountains, and Major Charles S. Whittlesey of the "lost" battalion, occurred October 12, 1918, during the Meuse-Argonne offensive, when he, as lieutenant, silenced three machine guns, killing 19 of the enemy, including one officer and capturing three others.

A portion of the final report soon to be submitted by General Pershing as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, to Secretary Weeks, was made public today and has the following to say of Sergeant Woodfill.

America's War Hero.

"Deeds of valor were too numerous to mention here. Outstanding was the heroism of Lieutenant Samuel Woodfill, fifth division, in attacking, single-handed, a series of German machine gun nests near Cunel and killing the crews of each in turn until reduced to the necessity of assaulting the last detachment with a pick, dispatching them all. And of Sergeant Alvin C. York, 82nd division, in standing off and capturing 132 Germans after his patrol was literally surrounded and outnumbered 10 to 1; and Major Charles S. Whittlesey and his men of the 77th division, when their battalion was cut off in the Argonne, in refusing to surrender and holding out until finally relieved. Doubtless many died in performing deeds of unknown heroism, as no survivor remained to testify."

The story of Sergeant Woodfill's exploit was said by army officers to be told most concisely in the citation which accompanied the award to him of the Congressional Medal of Honor. This citation read:

Sergeant Woodfill's Exploit.

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty, in action with the enemy at Cunel, France, October 12, 1918. While he was leading his company against the enemy, his line came under heavy machine gun fire, which threatened to hold up the advance. Followed by two soldiers at 25 yards, this officer went ahead of his first line toward a machine gun nest and worked his way around its flank, leaving two soldiers in front. When he got within ten yards of the gun it ceased firing and four of the enemy appeared, three of whom were shot by Lieutenant Woodfill. The fourth, an officer, rushed at Lieutenant Woodfill, who attempted to club him with his rifle. After a hand-to-hand struggle, Lieutenant Woodfill killed the officer with his pistol. His company thereupon continued to advance until shortly afterward another machine gun nest was encountered.

"Calling on his men to follow, Lieutenant Woodfill rushed ahead of his line in the face of heavy fire from the nest, and when several of the enemy appeared above the nest he shot them, capturing three other members of the crew and silencing the gun. A few minutes later, this officer for the third time demonstrated conspicuous daring by charging another machine gun position, killing two men in one machine gun pit with his rifle. He then drew his revolver and started to jump in the pit when two other gunners only a few yards away turned their gun on him.

"Failing to kill them with his revolver, he grabbed a pick lying nearby and killed the both of them. Inspired by the exceptional courage displayed by this officer, his men pressed on to their objective under severe shell and machine gun fire.

"For this act of heroism, Woodfill was promoted to a captaincy, and in addition to the congressional medal was awarded the Legion of Honor (cavalier) and the Croix de Guerre with palm, by France, and the Order of Prince Danilo II (fifth class) by Montenegro.

as you begin your deliberations. My prayers go up not only for all men and women who did their duty in the World War, but for those who have returned to the pursuits of peace, have banded themselves together to preserve these traditions of liberty, truth and justice for which we fought. It will be an added inexpressible pleasure soon to be with you."

General Pershing sent the following message:

"Greetings to the American Legion on the opening day of its convention and congratulations upon its spirit which is to stand always for those things for which we fought."

Harding's Proclamation Urges Nation Pray for Continued Divine Aid

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Harding issued a proclamation tonight, designating Thursday, November 24, as a day of thanksgiving, devotion and prayer, and urging the people to give thanks "for all that has been rendered unto them" and to pray "for a continuance of the divine fortune which has been showered so generously upon this nation."

The text of the President's proclamation follows:

"A proclamation:

"That season has come when, alike in pursuance of a devout people's time-honored custom and in grateful recognition of favoring national fortune, it is proper that the President should summon the nation to a day of devotion, of thanksgiving for blessings bestowed, and of prayer for guidance in modes of life that may deserve continuance of divine favor.

"Foremost among our blessings is the return of peace, and the approach to normal ways again. This year has brought us again in relations of amity with all nations, and in the absence of struggle and untold misery, in thankfulness, therefore, we may well unite in the hope that Providence will vouchsafe approval to the things we have done, the aims which have guided us, the aspirations which have inspired us. We shall be prospected as we shall deserve prosperity, seeking not alone for the material things but for those of the spirit as well; earnestly trying to help others; asking, before all else, the privilege of service to our country, which came to us, we may fittingly petition that moderation and wisdom shall be granted to rest upon all who are in authority in the tasks they must discharge. Their hands will be steadied, their purposes strengthened, in answer to our prayers.

A Favored Nation.

"Ours has been a favored nation in the bounties which God has bestowed upon it. The great trait of humanity, though indeed we bore our part as well as we were able, has been comparatively little shared. It is for us to recognize that we have been thus favored, and when we gather at our altars to order up thanks, we will as well to pledge, in humility and sincerity, our purpose to prove deserving. We have been raised up and preserved in national power and consequence as part of a plan whose wisdom we cannot question. Thus believing, we can do no less than hold our nation the willing instrument of the providence which has so wonderfully favored us. Opportunity for very great service awaits us as we shall to let our prayers be the path of duty. Under God, our responsibility is great; to our own first, to all men afterward, to all mankind in God's own justice.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, to be observed by the people as a day of thanksgiving, devotion and prayer, trusting that at their hearth-altars, and there about they will give thanks for all that has been rendered unto them, and will pray for a continuance of the divine fortune which has been showered so generously upon this nation.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be fixed the seal of the United States of America.

(Signed) "WARREN G. HARDING.

"By the president,

"Charles E. Hughes,

"Secretary of State."

COURT ENJOINS MINERS' UNION

West Virginia Coal Fields Cannot Be Unionized, Temporary Ruling Declares

'CHECK-OFF' BANNED

System by Which Union Dues Were Deducted From Men's Pay Condemned

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—Collection of dues of the United Mine Workers of America through the "check-off" system by which union membership dues are deducted from miners' wages by operators throughout the country, was enjoined today by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson. Further, his order enjoined all union officers and members from seeking "by any and all means" to unionize the Williamson coal field in West Virginia where violence has marked the strike that began more than a year ago. The order is a temporary one, but effective until changed by court.

A note of the order was made in court by counsel for the union to forestall the decree placing a ban on the "check-off" and though officers withheld comment on the court order, it was said unofficially to be a staggering blow at the union. Counsel for operators in the hearing, preceding the order, said that a strike might follow the levying of a ban on the "check-off." The order itself indicated the possibility of many contracts between miners and operators being broken by the ban on the "check-off."

Miner's Union View.

The only comment on the order from the miners' side was a statement by Ellis Seales, editor of the official publication of the union, who asserted the injunction was "certainly joyful news for the United States Steel corporation," which, he added, was reported to be the largest coal land owner in the strike zone.

In giving his opinion, Judge Anderson said it plain that he believed a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law had been shown at the hearing for the temporary injunction in the suit of the Borderland Coal corporation acting on behalf of three other West Virginia operators. The judge gave out the following statement:

"The bill avers and the proof shows a combination and working arrangement—a conspiracy—between the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators in the so-called central competitive field, to destroy what some of the conspirators call the 'vicious competition' of the West Virginia mines."

The statement declared that a conspiracy to destroy such competition was in direct contravention of the Sherman and trust act and continued:

"The bituminous coal fields of the United States are already unionized except a portion of West Virginia and a small section of the southwestern part of the country and an effort to unionize the West Virginia mines is part of an effort to monopolize all the coal industry in this United States, under one of the conspirators says, the United Mine Workers' organization, shall cover every coal producing state in the republic."

Evidence Against Union.

The method agreed upon and adopted by the conspirators is thus destroyed competition was to organize or unionize the West Virginia field. These West Virginia operators desire to run their mines on a non-union basis.

The evidence shows that members of the Mine Workers' union purchased firearms and ammunition and otherwise financed the violent activities in behalf of the unionizing forces in West Virginia and this state of war continued until the President sent troops into the state, and it is only held in abeyance because of that fact."

The statement said the evidence showed that the "check off" system yielded an enormous sum, and that statements made by officers of the United Mine Workers showed that the union organization had sent into West Virginia to carry on this struggle more than two and a half million dollars to assist in the effort to organize the West Virginia field."

Arms and Ammunition Purchased.

"The evidence without contradiction," the statement added, "shows that ammunition and arms were purchased by members of the mine workers' union and used for the purpose of carrying on this struggle."

The evidence clearly shows that the mine operators now—at least they know now—that this money contributed by them through the "check off" system, in this unlawful manner, it therefore follows that the use of such money should be enjoined and the carrying on of the "check off" system as a means for raising it should likewise be enjoined.

This court cannot police West Virginia nor does it hold that the United Mine Workers' union is itself an organization, nor will it in any way attempt to curtail the lawful activities, but it can enjoin the unlawful activities of the parties here in Indiana who are here now under the jurisdiction of this court, and a temporary injunction to that effect will be issued."

HOUSE SPEEDS UP ON TAX MEASURE

After Long Bonus Debate, It Votes to Retain $75,000,000 of Taxes on Corporations

Washington, Oct. 31.—After spending the day discussing the soldier bonus, the senate tonight proceeded with the tax revision bill with unusual celerity, voting to retain $75,000,000 of taxes on corporations which had been proposed for repeal, and tacking on a number of the excise levies now in force.

The first important action was the adoption of an amendment, proposing a graduated corporation capital stock tax at rates of 1% on each $1,000 between $5,000 and $7,000,000, and 2% per $1,000 on all over $3,000,000. Holding companies in payment of the tax would be credited with the amount of the same tax paid by their subsidiaries.

Considering its former action approving the present five per cent tax on planes and other musical instruments, the senate without a roll call and little opposition, adopted an amendment by Senator Frohman, Republican of New Jersey, repealing this tax.

The section proposing a five per cent levy on sporting goods was next eliminated, a compromise amendment striking out this section being adopted, 31 to 30.

The senate got stuck for a time on the chewing gum section, but it finally voted, 35 to 24, to repeal this tax, the existing rate of which is three per cent and that proposed in the bill two per cent.

The senate rejected an amendment by Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, to repeal the ten per cent tax on cameras weighing less than 100 pounds and on lenses for such cameras. It then rejected a motion by the same senator to reduce the tax from ten to five per cent.

At 11:20 p. m. the senate recessed until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

There was a four-hour discussion today of the Reed amendment pro-

NEW YORK MILK DRIVERS STRIKE FOR HIGHER PAY

New York, Oct. 31.—Employees of milk distributing corporations in Greater New York voted to go on strike at midnight tonight after conferences between representatives of both sides failed to reach an agreement on wages earlier in the day.

The walk-out, which actually went into effect shortly after noon today, when employees met at Madison Square Garden to take action, left thousands of quarts of milk and cream piled up at railroad terminals in New York and Northern New Jersey.

posing to continue the excess profits tax and to use the proceeds to defray the cost of the five-year adjusted compensation plan. This was followed by the introduction of an amendment by Senators Simmons of North Carolina and Walsh of Massachusetts, Democratic members of the finance committee, proposing a payment of the interest on the national foreign debt.

The latter amendment will not be formally moved for adoption in the senate, its authors announced, until action has been taken on the Reed amendment. Meanwhile, Senator Reed is delaying formal presentation of his amendment until there has been full discussion of the whole question.

Senator Penrose, in charge of the tax bill, said today it was the plan of the majority to move to lay the Reed amendment on the table on its ground that the soldier bonus has not place in a tax measure. Majority leaders had not decided tonight, however, what would be done with respect to the Simmons-Walsh amendment, which the authors declared would "make the tax on one of bonus or no bonus, without raising the question of the condition of the public debt, which has been the chief argument presented by opponents of the bonus plan."

GUM MANUFACTURER DIES

ERIE FARMING OUT WORK

Employees Declare Company Is Transferring Thousands of Freight-handlers to Private Companies in Efforts to Break Unions.

Binghamton, Oct. 31.—Disregarding its employees' claims, the rulings of the United States Railroad Labor Board and discounting the power of the men representing the various classes of employees to authorize a strike, officials of the Erie railroad will transfer thousands of their workers tomorrow to private contracting firms under wage reductions even greater than those of July 1, it became known today.

Under the plan which local railroad workers term one of the most forceful attempts yet launched upon them for the purpose of breaking up the unions more than 100 Binghamton men employed in the freight department of the Erie will suffer reductions from 45 and 50 cents an hour to 33 and 35 cents, about 30 per cent in some cases.

Gatekeepers and flagmen on this same road were transferred to the private contracting firm of George E. Owens on Oct. 15, it is said, and their wages immediately reduced from 38½ cents an hour to 22 cents an hour.

Three outside firms known as the Sullivan, Lincoln and Owen companies are now working in co-operation with the Erie and it is under one or all three of these concerns that freight handlers from over the center Erie system, numbering early 7,500, are to be transferred tomorrow.

This move on the part of the heads of the Erie was inaugurated the latter part of August when more than 5,000 maintenance of way men were technically dismissed and rehired for 10 cents an hour less than they previously had received.

Binghamton railroad men and their representatives are greatly incensed over this action of the heads of the Erie and predict that the refusal of the Railroad Labor Board to take a hand in the matter and restore them their rights will result in a walk-out.

The transfer not only separates the workers from their respective brotherhoods but takes from them the protection promised by the Labor Board against further wage reductions, they declare.

Representatives of the classes of employees recently affected by the new plan and those to be affected tomorrow are already prepared to submit their appeals to the Labor Board. No word has yet been received by the men looking after the interest of the section men before the Labor Board as to what action had been taken in their appeal in behalf of the thousands of their men who became victims of the Erie plan during the month of August.

The workers here say that if their case is heard by the Labor Board and decision given in their favor the money lost by them under the reduced rates up to the time of the hearing will be restored.

POLICE CAPTURE FOUR MEN BELIEVED SAFE CRACKERS

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 31.—Four men believed to be implicated in safe robberies in Northern New York and adjacent Canadian territory were captured yesterday with a complete safe cracking outfit in their possession.

The prisoners were repairing an automobile tire by the roadside, when two policemen passed them in another car. Their suspicions aroused, the policemen returned to the scene unobserved, saw a revolver protruding from a coat on the running board, and ordered the quartet to surrender. They did so without struggle. Detectives from Niagara Falls, N. Y., who questioned the men this evening, said that one of them had served three terms in Auburn prison for burglary.

Project Workers in Movies.

Ithaca, Oct. 31.—The movie news reels are being eagerly watched in a good many small communities of this state at the present time by the boys and girls who have been taking up junior project work, for they hope to see themselves "on the screen."

It was announced here today at the office of the state leader of junior work that one of the big makers of news pictures "shot" several scenes of project boys and girls at the state fair, one of them showing the youngsters with Governor Miller. It is these pictures which the boys and girls are anxious to see in their home town show.

CONFUSING DAY IN THE STOCK MARKET

Dealings Fairly Large But Again Subject to Maneuvers of Professional Traders

New York, Oct. 31.—Fluctuations in the stock market today were confusing, issues of the same description frequently moving in opposite directions. Dealings were fairly large but again subject to the maneuvers of professional traders.

Money rates furnished an excuse for the market's unstable course. Call loans opened at 5½ per cent, relaxed at five per cent at midday, and suddenly hardened to six per cent in the final hour.

Developments over the week-end offered little encouragement to the bull accounts. Railroad tonnage showed irregular increases and decreases, gains at prominent centers were neutralized by further price reductions for important industries.

Among market leaders, Mexican Petroleum was heaviest at an extreme decline of almost eight points, the stock being under greatest pressure in the last hour and unsettling the entire list.

Rails layed into the dullness shown by that group prior to the strike settlement, and equipment, motor and food shares were heavy. Wilson & Company, common and preferred, made gross declines of 5 to 15 points. Officials of the company were quoted as being unable to account for the weakness of these issues.

Foreign exchanges were irregular, the French franc being the one important instance of a display of weakness. German, Scandinavian and Central European rates were variably lower.

Trading in bonds was moderate with an uneven tone. Liberty issues closed mostly at slight gains, rails were uncertain and mixed changes ruled among international.

UNADILLA HIGH WINS.

Defeats Sidney High School Basketball Team Saturday Evening.

Unadilla, Oct. 31.—In a rather weird exhibition of basketball here Saturday night Unadilla high school succeeded in beating Sidney high school 12 to 15. Both teams were weak in passwork and quite strong in "roughhouse" play. The game should have been a walkover for Unadilla, with her players having a year's experience, but this was not the case as Sidney, coached by E. C. Dammaschke of Oneonta, played a good game for beginners and nearly succeeded in winning.

McMullin and Edwards were the shining lights for Unadilla, while Johnson played a good game for Sidney.

On Friday evening next, Unadilla plays Worcester here and it is hoped and expected that Unadilla will play a stronger game than they did Saturday evening.

The box score of Saturday night's game follows:

INCOME TO MARRY ON.

Simmons College Seniors Think Two Thousand Dollars Enough.

Boston, Oct. 31.—If the young women of the junior and senior classes at Simmons college practice what they preach, they will be glad to marry men earning no more than $2,000 a year.

In a census of the classes the minimum desirable income of a newly wedded couple in these times was placed from $1,000 to $5,000 per annum, with a majority asserting $2,000 as sufficient.

A majority believed women whose husbands could support them ought not to work for pay. Ninety students objected to women smoking and 63 students.

BASEBALL TRAINER CALLS COLAC PILLS MIRACULOUS

Dan Mulesky, former New York American trainer, writes: "For years I suffered with severe piles. I could find no relief by any of various treatments. Then I took your wonderful pills and obtained relief in so short a time as to be miraculous. I recommend them for their speed and certainty and for ease of taking which eliminates the bother of salves and ointments and the inconvenience of suppositories."

COLAC PILE PILLS are not a cathartic. Taken like any pill they reach the real cause of piles and by stimulating the circulation in the bowel drive piles away. At all druggists only 60 cents or 65 cents post-paid in plain wrapper from COLAC CHEMICAL CO., Glens Falls, N. Y.

Money Cannot Buy a Better Medicine Than Our famous Cod Liver and Iron Vinol

For a hundred years the medicinal elements contained in the cod's liver and oil have been regarded as the safest and best strength and body building medicinal agents known.

Many people however—especially children—cannot take cod liver oil because of the nauseating oil.

In Vinol they get all the medicinal value of cod liver oil and emulsions in a delicious tasting form and entirely free from oil—agreeable to the most delicate stomach—therefore it is better. Vinol is better than anything you can take to create strength or end a cold because it contains not only the curative body building elements of cod liver oil (without oil), but glycerophosphates and vegetable iron—the three greatest tonics known—besides other valuable ingredients, all named on the label.

Read the wonderful testimonials we are publishing in this paper almost every day, then get a bottle of Vinol on our guarantee. We agree to help you with Vinol or return your money.

THE PARMENTERS PLEASE.

First Number of Lecture Course Given at Methodist Church.

Milford, Oct. 31.—A very enjoyable evening was afforded the people of Milford and vicinity Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Parmenter gave the first number of the lecture course at the Methodist Episcopal church. It was an entertainment of much merit and this community is to be congratulated upon the class of entertainments to be provided if the balance of the course is equal to the offering of Friday evening.

The program was new and up-to-date and had all the elements of popularity. It consisted of playlets and abridged versions of standard plays by the world's greatest authors. There were three acts from "The Great Divide," the masterpiece of Margaret Anglin and Henry West and one act comedy "The Impertinence of the Creature." Interspersed were readings and impersonations. The last playlet "Tosses" was especially diverting and entertaining and was written by Mr. Parmenter. The full house and class of entertainment argue well for the success of the course.

Funeral of Albert V. Matzer.

The funeral services of Albert V. Matzer were held at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and were well attended by neighbors and friends. Rev. N. B. Kibbey, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. H. B. Erikman of the Presbyterian church, officiated. The remarks of both clergymen were a worthy tribute to the life and character of the deceased. Interment was made in the family plot in Milford cemetery.

Ever Get Bilious? Try This

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

When your liver goes on strike and you feel a sick headache and bilious spell coming on, instead of prodding your liver with dangerous cathartics and laxatives, get out your box of gentle, non-drying NR Tablets and take one right off.

Relief will come just as quickly and with it genuine, lasting benefit. There will be no griping, cramping pains or doubling stomachache. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) work promptly and gently, but the action is gentle, mild and cooling. Relief comes through the action of Nature's Remedy on not only the liver, but on the whole digestive and eliminative system—the stomach, the bowels and even on the kidneys. Stopped up accumulations of work of digestion and assimilation are resumed. The inactive liver goes to work with new vigor, the bowels are unburdened, the headache leaves, that old, "dopey" want-to-crawl-down-a-hole feeling disappears, energy, "pep" and appetite return and you feel a sick headache and bilious spell coming on, instead of prodding your liver with dangerous cathartics and laxatives, get out your box of gentle, non-drying NR Tablets and take one right off.

There is no better proof of the great value of Nature's Remedy for biliousness and constipation than the fact that more than one million NR Tablets are used every day—more than five million boxes sold every year.

If you've not already done so, get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take the first tablet tonight. If your constipation is stubborn or persistent, continue to take one each night for a week or so. Then note how you feel. Your bowels will be as regular as clock work, and you'll find yourself in better shape physically, mentally, every way than you've been in many a day. After that you need not take medicine every day. An occasional NR Tablet to keep your system in good condition will be sufficient, and you can always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than to get sick. Just try it.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

FESTIVE NIGHT IN ONEONTA

Boys and Girls in Costumes Bright Enhance the Pleasures of the Night—And Witches, Fairies, Ghosts Are Seen in Closing Hours of Halloween.

For several days, and particularly nights, impatient younger folk waited for the actual coming of Halloween. Some, indeed, had not waited, as witnessed sundry folk fancifully attired as long ago as Thursday of last week; and properly enough, since all the planned festivities and social events could not be crowded into one evening, there were numerous pre-Halloween gatherings, some of which were noted in The Star of yesterday. However, last night was the real eve of All Hallow, or All Saints' day, and not alone the very young but many others who still have young blood in older veins, were participants in outdoor and indoor festivities.

The former, which were most in evidence, began with the earliest night-fall, from which hour Main street was crowded with masked figures, white, black and piebald, girls with suspiciously large feet and heavy voices, boys with voices of surprising shrillness, Pierrots and Columbines, broomstick witches and real fairies, and such variety of costumes as betrayed many hours of thought and labor. Every boy, whether masked or not, was happy, and the older ones, who made up the quota of spectators, evidently enjoyed the closing carnival hours of October as much as the younger sort. Best of all, everybody was good-natured; there was the maximum of genuine good-fellowship; and so far as could be observed there was little of destructiveness and few instances of malicious mischief. Even the wagons of ancient vintage which were dragged from obscurity for the occasion, were used with a degree of respect befitting their venerable condition.

All in all it was a happy evening, perhaps the most joyous of any Halloween event in the city, and the police, who by the way had their fake counterparts among the masked assembly, had very little to do in the way of keeping order. These were the salient features of a somewhat noisy evening out of doors. The following are some of the Halloween gatherings:

Baraca Class Make Merry.

About 100 guests enjoyed the Halloween party given by the Baraca class of the Main Street Baptist church last evening in the parlors of the church. The rooms were decorated with cornstalks, pumpkins and wilghes. There were many clever costumes and make-ups which created much merriment. After the usual Halloween stunts and games, refreshment were served in the dining room.

Standard Bearers Entertained.

The Wilber Lake farm was a lively place on Saturday evening, the occasion being a Halloween party given by Miss Ledia Ingalls to the Standard Bearers society of the First Methodist church. The house was uniquely decorated with leaves and jack-o'-lanterns and the young people made the farm house ring with merriment. After pumpkin pie, doughnuts and pop corn had been served the guests were taken out doors for a frolic around a big bonfire. Before leaving the young ladies gave their yells by way of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls and daughter for the good time they had given them.

Dibble's Hall a Merry Place.

The first of a series of "Sigma Klub Danzants" to be given in Dibble's hall on Dietz street took place last evening and was an occasion thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd of merry Halloweeners who packed the capacious hall throughout the evening. Stewart Gorman's Black and White orchestra of Ulica furnished the syncopation, their super-excellent music pleasing even the most fastidious of the dancers. The hall was appropriately decorated with streamers of black and orange crepe paper.

Halloween at the "Y."

About 40 boys were present at the masquerade-social held last night at the Y. M. C. A. The boys wore some of the best Halloween costumes that have been seen in many a day, everything from a Scotchman to a pickaninny being represented. Boys' Secretary Smith originally planned to award "a" box of candy to the boy having the best costume, but he found that it was impossible to select the best, and so the box of candy was dispensed of. They went to Harold Kennedy, the Scotchman, and to Stewart Randall and William Hanlon, who were dressed as girls.

The boys had a great time playing Halloween games, the most noticeable of which was where the "victim" ducked his face into a pan of flour. The fortune teller, in the person of Eaton Goldthwaite, was also on hand. Altogether, the boys had a great time.

A Happy Affair at 30 Elm Street.

Enjoyable indeed was the Halloween party given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stanford, 30 Elm street, by their daughters, Mrs. J. M. Rush and Mrs. P. W. R. Hinman. The guests included 18 of the younger social set of the city, all attired in masquerade costumes decidedly unique and mirth-provoking in their nature. Halloween games were played and prizes awarded for proficiency in the various stunts. The delicious refreshments were of a character suitable to the occasion. Among the guests were Mrs. B. B. Selph, Bruno Solomon and Sidney Solomon of Clarksville.

Preceding the "grown-ups" party, Miss Phyllis Rush entertained a small group of her young friends, their entertainment being fully as enjoyable as that accorded their elders.

Moosheart Legion Dance.

The Moosheart legion gave a very enjoyable Halloween dance to its membership and their friends in Municipal hall last evening. The music was excellent and the floor in fine condition and everything tended to make the affair one long to be remembered by the many in attendance.

Halloween in Dreamland.

The Halloween dance at Dreamland last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd of merry-makers. The Klipsack Syncopation four furnished excellent music.

Halloween Social Tonight.

There will be a Halloween social at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the First Baptist church given jointly by the Sunday school and the Christian Endeavor society. There will be appropriate entertainment for both old and young and refreshments will be served. Members of both organizations and their friends are invited.

HALF-WAY MARK REACHED

Community Chest Committee Express Confidence in Ultimate Success—Urge Voluntary Contributions at Community House.

The half-way mark to the Community Chest campaign goal of $30,000 for Oneonta's ten health and welfare organizations, was reached yesterday following reorganization of the methods of canvassing by team workers.

Reports by canvassers, who are continuing to extend the appeal for Oneonta's health and social welfare to the majority of citizens who were not reached last week, showed at noon that 115 subscriptions had been made for a total of $2,135, a net total to date of 925 subscriptions and $14,214. Related reports following the luncheon at Kilkenny's were received at the headquarters at the Community house, and the unofficial tabulation set the total figures above the $15,000 mark.

With assured confidence of the campaign's ultimate success and expressing the spirit of "do it now and have it over with," the reduced corps of workers is setting out to steadily push the minute hand on the clock to the half hour goal, in order that all ten organizations which are participating in the campaign may secure the funds needed to carry on their beneficial endeavors for Oneonta, and every citizen in the city and surrounding community.

Because of the physical impossibility for every citizen to be reached by team workers in the canvass last week, and since the men and women who are continuing the canvass are expending much of their valued time and energy all in service for Oneonta, the co-operation of those who have not yet given, in making the work of the canvassers as little burdensome as possible, would be greatly appreciated by the Community Chest committee. Any who are able are urged to call at the Community house at 17 Ford avenue, hear the explanation of the Chest and the work being done by the organizations, and fill out their subscription card, if they have not already done so.

MUTT AND JEFF TONIGHT.

Bud Fisher's Popular Comics in New Series of Adventures at Theatre.

Probably nothing more welcome or enjoyable is the news that "Mutt and Jeff" are to appear in a new series of adventures and escapades. Whether this be upon the stage or in the confines of their daily dolags in the newspapers of the world, the announcement is invariably welcome and of more than passing importance. At the Oneonta theatre tonight at 8:15 this pair of ubiquitous comics, brought into being and made famous by their creator, Bud Fisher, will be seen in a brand new and up-to-the-minute musical effusion entitled, "Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown." For two acts and almost three hours of solid and incessant mirth, the "Long and Short of It" as they are popularly termed, meet at cross purposes, but with only one aim in life, seemingly, and that is to distribute and disseminate hearty and infectious laughter. That they succeed goes without saying. And thanks also to an excellent vehicle. The piece contains a plausible plot, with good characterization and plenty of wholesome and untainted action. The company is a large one and contains a bevy of pretty young women who do more than pose and wear expensive gowns.

ANNUAL MEETING RED CROSS

Large Attendance at Meeting of Oneonta Chapter Last Evening—Executive Committee Closes and Reports Read—Robert Hall Describes Activities at National Convention.

The annual meeting of the Oneonta chapter of the American Red Cross was held at the Community house last evening, a large number of members being in attendance. After routine business had been transacted, an executive committee was appointed and reports of the work of the various subdivisions of the society were read. The reports contained many interesting details of the work which the society has done during the past year, and showed gratifying activity on the part of the various branches of the local chapter. Robert Hall, delegate from the Oneonta chapter to the national convention held recently at Columbus, Ohio, gave an intensely interesting account of the convention proceedings and of what the Red Cross is doing in other parts of the country. A summary of the reports and of Mr. Hall's talk will be given in tomorrow's Star. The executive committee selected last evening is composed of H. W. Fluhrer, M. M. Goldsmith, Robert Hall, L. F. Rose, A. P. Mills, P. F. Gallagher, Mrs. C. C. Colburn, Mrs. I. H. Rowe, Mrs. M. C. Hemstreet, Mrs. E. J. Parley, Miss Edna Geo. and Miss Florence Matteson. This committee will meet next week to select officers for the coming year.

MOTOR CARS AT AUCTION.

Five Hundred People Attended Sale of Ford Sales Company.

Upwards of 500 people were in attendance at the auction sale of used cars held by the Oneonta Sales company at its building on the corner of Chestnut and Market streets on Saturday. Mr. Warren has a steady demand for used cars, but being desirous of moving his stock on hand he decided to give those seeking cars of that character an opportunity to purchase at their own price, held the sale.

All of the used cars which the company had on hand were disposed of at prices which were satisfactory to the buyers and which made them all good buys. Two cars which to accommodate customers, Mr. Warren consented to offer, the auctioneer stating that they were being offered not from the stock of the company but at the request of the owners and with no responsibility on the part of the company were also sold.

The sale served to attract many visitors from about this section of the city and doubtless others profited to an extent at least by their coming here.

Halloween Social Tonight.

The G. I. A. and their husbands will hold a Halloween social Tuesday evening at the home of Sister Sargent, 204 Chestnut street. Bring usual refreshments.

IDLE TIMBERLANDS.

Chief Greeley of the Forest Service is authority for the statement that more than one-half of the entire annual lumber cut of the world is in the United States, and that 95 per cent of this amount is used at home. Naturally the exhaustion of our lumber supply is coming about, not because we have used our forests freely but because we have failed to utilize our timber-growing land. The problem in a nutshell is the enormous area of former forest land which has been so logged and burned over that it is producing little or nothing. Our country now has eighty millions of land denuded to the point of absolute idleness so far as the production of any timber of commercial value is concerned, and this area is greater than all the forests of France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Zealand, Spain and Portugal together. Other cut-over lands are now growing but a fraction of the timber which they might produce, and we are adding millions of acres to this idle land every year.

The condition is unquestionably a serious one from whatever viewpoint viewed, and it cannot continue much longer without grave consequences. Not only is there the continued demand for timber for building but there is the still greater one for commercial purposes. Our railroads use 125,000,000 cross ties every year, the average well-kept farm uses 2,000 feet of board lumber annually in repairs, the amount used for the making of boxes is enormous, the California citrus crop alone taking 13,000,000 boxes of 5 1/2 bushels each for marketing, besides the large amount used for apples and other products; and there are the millions of barrels annually used in the flouring industry alone. To these, merely cited as examples, the reader can readily add many others.

Under these circumstances the country should waken to the situation, and to the dawning timber famine, the pinch of which is already being felt. Dear as lumber is now, it is bound to increase in cost, and the only thing to prevent figures absolutely prohibitive is immediate steps toward reforestation. All these idle acres are capable of being brought again into usefulness for the production of timber, and that they should remain barren is nothing short of a crime. Steps should be taken at once, and everywhere, to bring back to America a fraction at least of the splendid forests which were her normal heritage. In New York and Pennsylvania and in the New England states, something has already been done in the mountain areas, but what has been accomplished is but little when compared with the much remaining undone. It is a situation demanding government action; and in this connection it should be noted that the timber lands of the country no matter how wastefully they have been exploited in the past, are not of right for the individual owner to do as he pleases with.

There will doubtless come a time, and very properly, when the government will require that for every acre lumbered over another acre must be planted; and in the meantime there will be steps taken to reforest those barren acres which are an ever-present reproach and a menace. Financially, assuming that the growth of a planted acre is valued at $10 yearly, the country is losing $300,000,000 every year they remain idle. In 40 years the value of the planted timber would be $22,000,000,000—a sum comparable with nothing save the great war debts of the world. And outside of the bare commercial view, there is the fact that the denuded hillsides are no longer reservoirs whereby moisture is retained, equalizing the flow of streams and affecting the general climate and rainfall. The sure way to move its entire forest growth.

Otsego and Delaware counties have to a limited extent engaged in reforestation. An effort was made two or three years ago to make the work a township one, but with little success. The present high price of lumber, its scarcity and the climatic effect should inspire communities, townships and individuals to action. Man, who is believed not to live for himself alone, should awake to the situation and his obligations to the future. Children and the children in the third and fourth generation of those now living may inhabit a world as barren as the moon is believed to be; and it will have been the fault of the men of the twentieth century.

TURKEY WILL ROOST LOWER.

Happier Outlook for Householders Seeking Thanksgiving Stand-By.

A dispatch of Monday from New York will interest many residents of Oneonta, who during recent years have had to do a great deal of substitution for the Thanksgiving dinner's chief culinary feature: "Turkey." The centerpiece of Thanksgiving festive boards, says the dispatch, will be from 15 to 20 cents a pound cheaper than last year. It was reported in market circles today. In most sections the choice bird will retail at from 40 to 45 cents a pound.

The turkey population this year is so large, it was said that they are being sold for less than raising cost. In addition to the large number of turkeys, about there was on October 1, a total of 3,437,000 pounds in cold storage, or about 1,000,000 pounds more than a year ago.

OF CURRENT INTEREST

Dukes and Thrones.

Sixteen dead Dukes of Hamilton are being removed at the same time from their mausoleum beneath Hamilton Palace. The first Duke had stipulated that the bodies of himself and all of his successors to the title should lie there till the Judgment Day, when all the Dukes in what remained to them of their regalia were to march together in an impressive phalanx to thrones reserved for them on high. The founder of the line seems to have been very sure of his destination and that of his descendant peers.

Dukes and thrones are not what they used to be. Even to some American heiresses and their fathers, it is coming to appear that "kind hearts are more than coronets;" and investment even in a Duke of ancient lineage is no guarantee of lasting financial felicity. Sturdy youths, not afraid or ashamed to earn a living, whose definition of gentility is not the synonym of idleness, now have their innings. Their title to respect is based on honest work. Even the spectacle of 16 Dukes marching together to their seats in glory is not so impressive now as it might have been in other days.—[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

That Boom in Cotton Goods.

In view of the economic revival that is to follow upon the adoption of the longer skirts, something might be said for what the Ku Klux Klan has done to encourage the manufacture of white cotton sheetings.—[New York Evening Post.]

Preserver of Venice.

General Diaz, a soldier as modest as he is brave, is a warrior of the type America is delighted to honor. Like every man worthy of supreme command, his speech and thought are for peace and in his own words, his belief is "to realize world peace and concord we must disarm, not only in weapons, but also in the spirit and the passion that make for war." It is, therefore, to a great peace-maker and not simply to one of the most distinguished war-markers that the gate to our hospitality stands ajar.—[Philadelphia Ledger.]

Grand Opera For The People.

Chicago's Grand Opera company has developed into a powerful agency for the intellectual advancement not only of this city but of the congeries of communities large and small that respond to Chicago's cultural influences. Grand opera is not a rich man's amusement for too many persons think, but a need of every heart that hunger for adequate expression. It is an uplifting force that those who realize in any degree the power of beauty to ennoble the mind cannot ignore. Opera is for the people as a whole and should be co-operatively supported by them.—[Chicago Daily News.]

Half a Sentence.

"Rastus," said the judge sternly, "you're plain no-account and shiftless and for this fight I'm going to send you away for a year at hard labor." "Please, Judge," interrupted Mrs. Rastus from the rear of the court room, "will yo' Honah jes' kinder split dat sentence? Don't send him away from home, but let dat hard labor stand."—[American Legion Weekly.]

An Aztec Scholarship.

Laudable as is the intention of the Harvard club of Mexico to establish a Mexican scholarship at Harvard, it takes on a further and possible deeper interest from the fact that it is proposed to limit the privilege to full-blooded Indians. Against this proposal Senator Luis Moran Y. Mariscal, in a recent letter vigorously protests, arguing that those who, like himself, have plentiful Indian, Spanish and American blood, but no Indian infusion, should not be excluded. The question is one for the Harvard club to decide; but much can be said for giving preference to the aboriginal Mexican. Making all allowance for Prescott's grandiosities, the fact remains that the Aztecs were a very remarkable people, having achieved a civilization quite comparable to that of ancient Egypt.—[New York Times.]

Life On the Moon.

Professor Pickering's positive assertion that life exists on the moon is a complete reversal of the orthodox assumption that the moon is a dead satellite without atmosphere or sound or foliage or moving thing in its cavernous valleys.

Professor Pickering pictures the glimpses of the moon as adorned with an attractively profusion of flora, with wide sweeps of vegetation that come and vanish within a fortnight. Such rapid growth is almost incredible. Clouds abound in the moon atmosphere, he declares and there are heavy mists and fogs. His photographs show violent snow storms and blizzards and indicate frequent volcanic eruptions. Life on the moon, declares the professor, somewhat resembles that on Mars, but is entirely unlike that on earth.

Perhaps now for a time our star gazers will direct more attention to the moon, which, as Professor Pickering says, has been neglected, while astronomers have been gazing at and speculating on more remote worlds. In a planetary sense the moon lives just next door, as compared with a Mars in the next country, and if it really harbors life, the professor's fellow astronomers will owe him thanks for tremendously extending the importance of their researches. But he must first convince them; a task harder perhaps than convincing himself.—[New York Sun.]

O'CONNOR PLAYS DETECTIVE

District Attorney of Delaware County Uncovers Source of Whisky Supply and Gambling Place in His Home Village.

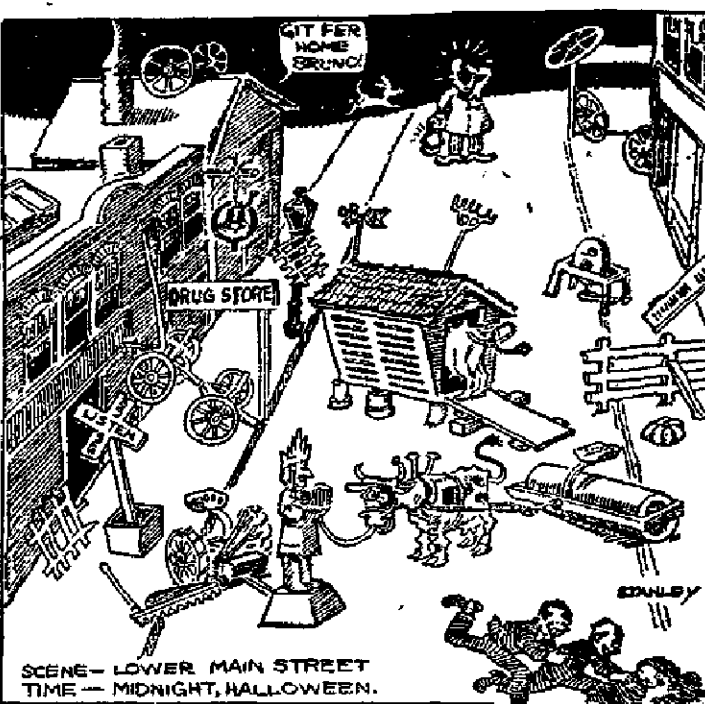

For some time reports have been made to District Attorney A. L. O'Connor of Hobart that there was a large supply of liquor coming into Hobart and also that gambling was being indulged in by quite a number of sports in that village. Mr. O'Connor made several efforts to find out about these matters but was unsuccessful for a long time. He continued in his efforts and played the part of a detective himself and as a result Saturday night and Sunday he succeeded in discovering and bringing to justice the guilty parties. He discovered that one source of the whisky supply was a farmer living in the town of Kortright about three miles from Hobart by the name of Fox and obtained a search warrant which was placed in the hands of Constable Clay Hooker of Grand Gorge, who assisted by Constables George LaFave of Fish's Eddy and Lynn Stewart of Roxbury, went to the premises of Mr. Fox and searched his premises while he and his wife were at Stamford Sunday morning. The officers found two kegs containing about three gallons of whisky and a bottle with about a quart of the same, all of a very good quality. An amusing part of the raid was that after the raid and just as the raiding party was leaving the premises a couple of young men from Hobart drove up to the place, evidently for the purpose of obtaining a supply and must have been greatly shocked when they found they were too late.

Saturday night Mr. O'Connor discovered that one of the chief gambling places was the meat market William Clark rented from Mrs. Louise Weeks. When he went to investigate he was thwarted by an outlook warning the men inside, but by clever work found out the names of the gamblers and Sunday afternoon laid all information before Justice of the Peace Henry Cowan, who issued subpoenas in a John Doe proceedings for several of the participants who were put through an examination.

Some of them evidently told the truth about the matter while others sought to cover themselves and their associates. The investigation is to continue with a disposition on the part of the district attorney to be lenient with those who confess and to deal harshly with those who seek to evade. An interesting side light is that one of the witnesses who was subpoenaed to attend could not be found and it was afterwards learned that he was attending another poker party. When he gets before Judge Cowan his story will be longer than the rest for there will be one more chapter.

His many Oneonta friends had hoped that eventually he would decide to make this city his home, but the fact that a favorite nephew resides in Earlville turned the tide in favor of that village.

CORN WORM ACTIVE

Corn Worm Not Usually Destructive North of Long Island, But This Year Is an Exception, Say Experts.

The corn ear worm has been getting in its work in some parts of New York state and some farmers have thought it was the much dreaded European corn borer, specialists at the State College of Agriculture said here today.

In southern and central New York, particularly, corn has been infested with the ear worm, which is a particularly destructive pest in the south. Several New York county agents have reported injuries to corn in their counties.

The college specialists say that in normal years the ear worm is not destructive north of Long Island and the vicinity of New York city, but that in seasons following mild winters, such as the last one, its destruction sometimes reaches central New York and even Ontario.

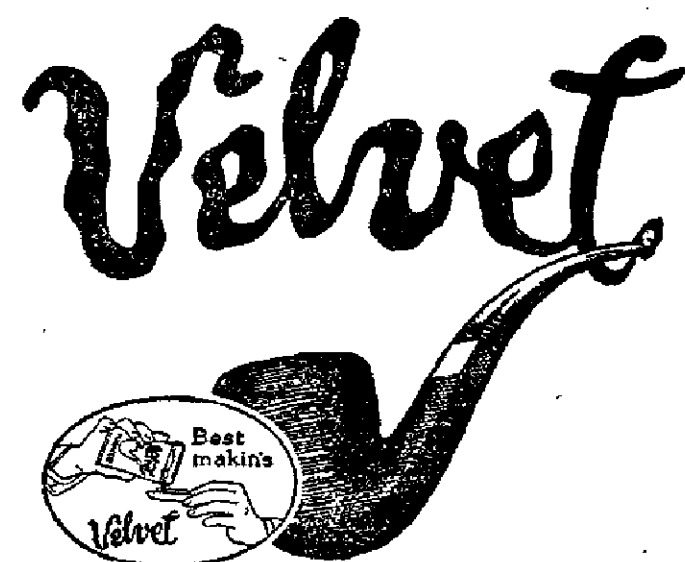

Experiments so far have not resulted in a practical method of control. Some New Jersey experimenters have reduced the infestation somewhat by dusting the silk several times through the growing season with lead arsenate and sulphur, but the college authorities say that this method is not commercially satisfactory, except for very special markets. In Otsego county gardens the worm was frequently noticed this year.

FESTIVE NIGHT IN ONEONTA

Boys and Girls in Costumes Brighten the Pleasures of the Night—And Witches, Fairies, Ghosts Are Seen in Closing Hours of Halloo.

For several days, and particularly tonight, impatient younger folk waited for the actual coming of Halloween. Some, indeed, had not waited, as witnessed sundry folk fancifully attired as long ago as Thursday of last week; and properly enough, since all the planned festivities and social events could not be crowded into one evening, there were numerous pre-Halloween gatherings, some of which were noted in The Star of yesterday. However, last night was the real eve of All Hallow, or All Saints' day, and not alone the very young but many others who still have young blood in older veins, were participants in outdoor and indoor festivities.

The former, which were most in evidence, began with the earliest night-fall, from which hour Main street was crowded with masked figures, white, black and pikeled, girls with suspiciously large feet and heavy voices, boys with voices of surprising shrillness, Pierrots and Columbianes, broomstick witches and real fairies, and such variety of costuming as betrayed many hours of thought and labor. Everybody, whether masked or not, was happy, and the older ones who made up the quota of spectators evidently enjoyed the closing carnival hours of October as much as the younger sort. Best of all, everybody was good-natured; there was the maximum of genuine good-fellowship; and so far as could be observed there was little of destructiveness and few instances of malicious mischief. Even the wagons of ancient vintage which were dragged from obscurity for the occasion, were used with a degree of respect befitting their venerable condition.

All in all it was a happy evening, perhaps the most joyous of any Halloween event in the city, and the police, who by the way had their fake counterparts among the masked assembly, had very little to do in the way of keeping order. These were the salient features of a somewhat noisy evening out of doors. The following are some of the Halloween gatherings:

Baraca Class Make Merry.

About 100 guests enjoyed the Halloween party given by the Baraca class of the Main Street Baptist church last evening in the parlors of the church. The rooms were decorated with cornstalks, pumpkins and witches. There were many clever costumes and make-ups which created much merriment. After the usual Halloween stunts and games, refreshments were served in the dining room.

Standard Bearers Entertained.

The Wilber Lake farm was a lively place on Saturday evening, the occasion being a Halloween party given by Miss Lydia Ingalls to the Standard Bearers society of the First Methodist church. The house was uniquely decorated with leaves and jack-o-lanterns and the young people made the farm house ring with merriment. After pumpkin pie, doughnuts and pop corn had been served, the guests were taken out doors for a frolic around a big bonfire. Before leaving the young ladies gave their vells by way of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls and daughter for the good time they had given them.

Dibble's Hall a Merry Place.

The first of a series of "Sigma Klub Dansants" to be given in Dibble's hall on Dietz street took place last evening and was an occasion thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd of merry Halloweeners who packed the capacious hall throughout the evening. Stewart Gorman's Black and White orchestra of Utica furnished the syncopation, their super-excellent music pleasing even the most fastidious of the dancers. The hall was appropriately decorated with streamers of black and orange crepe paper.

Halloween at the "Y."

About 40 boys were present at the masquerade social held last night at the Y. M. C. A. The boys wore some of the best Halloween costumes that have been seen in many a day, everything from a Scotchman to a pickaninny being represented. Boys' Secretary Smith originally planned to award a "box of candy" to the boy having the best costume, but he found that it was impossible to select the best, and so three boxes of candy were disposed of. They went to Harold Hendy, the Scotchman, and to Stewart Crandall and William Hanlon, who were dressed as girls.

The boys had a great time playing Halloween games, the most noticeable of which was where the "victim" ducked his face into a pan of flour. The fortune teller, in the person of Eaton Goldthwaite, was also on hand. Altogether, the boys had a great time.

A Happy Affair at 30 Elm Street.

Enjoyable indeed was the Halloween party given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stanford, 30 Elm street, by their daughters, Mrs. J. M. Rush and Mrs. F. W. R. Hinman. The guests included 15 of the younger social set of the city, all attired in masquerade costumes decidedly unique and mirth-provoking in their nature. Halloween games were played and prizes awarded for proficiency in the various stunts. The delicious refreshments were of a character suitable to the occasion. Among the guests were Mrs. B. B. Selph, Bruno Solomon and Sidney Solomon of Gloversville.

Preceding the "grown-ups" party, Miss Phyllis Rush entertained a small group of her young friends, their entertainment being fully as enjoyable as that accorded their elders.

Mooseheart Legion Dance.

The Mooseheart legion gave a very enjoyable Halloween dance to its membership and their friends in the main hall last evening. The music was excellent and the floor in fine condition and everything tended to make the affair one long to be remembered by the many in attendance.

Halloween in Dreamland.

The Halloween dance at Dreamland last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd of merry-makers. The Klipnokie Syncopation four furnished excellent music.

Halloween Social Tonight.

There will be a Halloween social at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the First Baptist church given jointly by the Sunday school and the Christian Endeavor society. There will be appropriate entertainment for both old and young and refreshments will be served. Members of both organizations and their friends are invited.

HALF-WAY MARK REACHED

Community Chest Committee Express Confidence in Ultimate Success—Urge Voluntary Contributions at Community House.

The half-way mark to the Community Chest campaign goal of $30,000 for Oneonta's ten health and welfare organizations, was reached yesterday following reorganization of the methods of canvassing by team workers.

Reports by canvassers, who are continuing to extend the appeal for Oneonta's health and social welfare to the majority of citizens who were not reached last week, showed at noon that 119 subscriptions had been made for a total of $2,135, a net total to date of 925 subscriptions and $14,214. Detailed reports following the luncheon at Kikenny's were received at the headquarters of the Community house, and the unofficial tabulation set the total figures above the $15,000 mark.

With assured confidence of the campaign's ultimate success and expressing the spirit of "do it now and have it over with," the reduced corps of workers is setting out to steadily push the minute hand on the clock to the half hour goal, in order that all ten organizations which are participating in the campaign may secure the funds needed to carry on their beneficial endeavors for Oneonta and every citizen in the city and surrounding community.

Because of the physical impossibility for every citizen to be reached by team workers in the canvass last week, and since the men and women who are continuing the canvass are expending much of their valued time and energy, all in service for Oneonta, the co-operation of those who have not yet given, in making the work of the canvassers as little burdensome as possible, would be greatly appreciated by the Community Chest committee. Any who are able are urged to call at the Community house at 17 Ford avenue, hear the explanation of the Chest and the work being done by the organizations, and fill out their subscription card, if they have not already done so.

MUTT AND JEFF TONIGHT.

Bud Fisher's Popular Comedies in New Series of Adventures at Theatre.

Probably nothing more welcome or enjoyable is the news that "Mutt and Jeff" are to appear in a new series of adventures and escapades. Whether this be upon the stage or in the confines of their daily doings in the newspapers of the world, the announcement is invariably welcome and of more than passing importance. At the Oneonta theatre tonight at 8:15 this pair of ubiquitous comedians, brought into being and made famous by their creator, Bud Fisher, will be seen in a brand new and up-to-the-minute musical effusion entitled, "Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown." For two acts and almost three hours of solid and incessant mirth, the "Long and Short of It" they are popularly termed, meet at cross purposes, but with only one aim in life, seemingly, and that is to distribute and disseminate hearty and infectious laughter. That they succeed goes without saying. And thanks also to an excellent vehicle. The piece contains a plausible plot, with good characterization and plenty of wholesome and unstinted action. The company is a large one and contains a bevy of pretty young women who do more than pose and wear expensive gowns.

ANNUAL MEETING RED CROSS

Large Attendance at Meeting of Oneonta Chapter Last Evening—Executive Committee Chosen and Reports Read—Robert Hall Describes Activities at National Convention.

The annual meeting of the Oneonta chapter of the American Red Cross was held at the Community house last evening, a large number of members being in attendance. After routine business had been transacted, an executive committee was appointed and reports of the work of the various subdivisions of the society were read. The reports contained many interesting details of the work which the society has done during the past year, and showed gratifying activity on the part of the various branches of the local chapter. Robert Hall, delegate from the Oneonta chapter to the national convention held recently at Columbus, Ohio, gave an intensely interesting account of the convention proceedings and of what the Red Cross is doing in other parts of the country. A summary of the reports and of Mr. Hall's talk will be given in tomorrow's Star.

The executive committee selected last evening is composed of H. W. Pluhner, H. M. Goldsmith, Robert Hall, J. F. Rose, A. P. Mills, P. F. Gallagher, Mrs. C. C. Colburn, Mrs. I. H. Howe, Mrs. M. C. Hennebert, Mrs. E. J. Parley, Miss Etta Gee, and Miss Florence Matteson. This committee will meet next week to elect officers for the coming year.

MOTOR CARS AT AUCTION.

Five Hundred People Attended Sale of Ford Sales Company.

Upwards of 500 people were in attendance at the auction sale of used cars held by the Oneonta Sales company at its building on the corner of Chestnut and Market streets on Saturday. Mr. Warren has a steady demand for used cars, but being desirous of moving his stock on hand he decided to give those seeking cars of that character an opportunity to purchase at their own price, hold the sale.

All of the used cars which the company had on hand were disposed of at prices which were satisfactory to the buyers and which made them all good buys. Two cars which to accommodate customers, Mr. Warren consented to offer, the auctioneer stating that they were being offered not from the stock of the company but at the request of the owners and with no responsibility on the part of the company were also sold.

The sale served to attract many visitors from about this section of the city and doubtless others profited to an extent at least by their coming here.

WEST END ACTIVITIES

Many Cottages and Bungalows in Course of Construction—Local and Personal Notes.

There is unusual building activity at West End this fall, a casual walk through the section revealing a score or more of bungalows and cottages under the course of construction or foundations awaiting the arrival of carpenters. ## FORMER ARMY OFFICER DEAD.

Colonel Franklin S. Hutton, U. S. A. Retired, Dies at Home in Cobleskill.

Colonel Franklin Swart Hutton, U. S. Army retired, died suddenly as the result of a shock yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home in Cobleskill. Word to this effect was received by Mrs. John V. Clark of this city, who left for Cobleskill last night to be with her sister, Mrs. Hutton. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Colonel Hutton was a graduate of the West Point Military academy and spent 27 years of his active life in the United States army. He retired several years ago, however, and had since made his home in Cobleskill. His only near surviving relative is his widow, who was Frances Hanlon, daughter of M. Hanlon, now of 23 Church street, this city.

Undertaker E. C. Packer of this city, who was called to Cobleskill to take charge of the body, on his return to Oneonta last night reported that the funeral will be held on Thursday.

Col. Hutton was well known in Oneonta, having spent several months in the city about two years ago. He had returned from a hunting trip in the Adirondacks on Saturday night last and was thought to be in his usual good health until he was stricken. Many friends here will learn with regret of his death.

STOMACH-UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Many Cottages and Bungalows in Course of Construction—Local and Personal Notes.

There is unusual building activity at West End this fall, a casual walk through the section revealing a score or more of bungalows and cottages under the course of construction or foundations awaiting the arrival of carpenters. "I tried everything that I heard of for the stomach and bowel trouble and bleeding, but got no permanent relief until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It has cured my stomach, bowels and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will cure, or money refunded. Druggists everywhere."

FORMER ARMY OFFICER DEAD.

Colonel Franklin S. Hutton, U. S. A. Retired, Dies at Home in Cobleskill.

Colonel Franklin Swart Hutton, U. S. army retired, died suddenly as the result of a shock yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at his home in Cobleskill. Word to this effect was received by Mrs. John V. Clark of this city, who left for Cobleskill last night to be with her sister, Mrs. Hutton. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

Colonel Hutton was a graduate of the West Point Military academy and spent 27 years of his active life in the United States Army. He retired several years ago, however, and had since made his home in Cobleskill. His only near surviving relative is his widow, who was Frances Hanlon, daughter of M. Hanlon, now of 23 Church street, this city.

Undertaker B. C. Fackler of this city, who was called to Cobleskill to take charge of the body, on his return to Oneonta last night reported that the funeral will be held on Thursday.

Col. Hutton was well known in Oneonta, having spent several months in the city about two years ago. ## STOMACH-UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

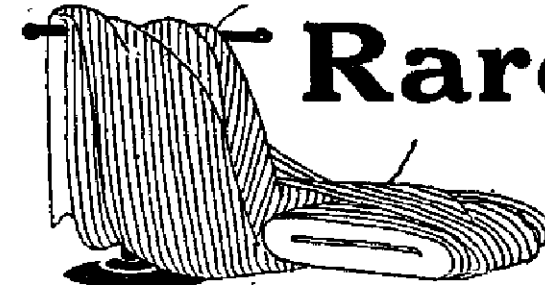

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a laggy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

SLACKER LIST SMALL

ROLL OF DRAFT EVADERS FOR THIS DISTRICT CONTAINS BUT SEVEN NAMES.

Men Who Failed to Answer Summons of Local Board Named by Government—List Has Been Carefully Checked and Investigation Made of Each Case—Whereabouts of But One Man Have Been Discovered—Five Men in Otsego County Failed to Do Their Duty.

Pursuant to a request from the government, The Star publishes below the names and last known addresses of those registrants under the draft law in the jurisdiction of Local Board No. 1 for Otsego county who failed to respond to calls issued by the board and who have not been located by the government since the board closed its office. These men have now the status of deserters from the military service of the United States and are liable to apprehension and delivery to military authorities.

The names and addresses appearing within parentheses pertain to the same person and represent the different spellings of the name and the different addresses of that man as shown by his draft record and correspondence on file in the War Department.

William Brown, 46 Church street, Oneonta, N. Y.
John Burnham, 11 Hunt street, Oneonta, N. Y.
(Angelo Ciaramella, 4 Baker street, Oneonta, N. Y.)
(Angelo Ciaramella, 4 Baker street, Oneonta, N. Y.)
(Angelo Ciaramella, 4 Baker street, Oneonta, N. Y.)
Arthur L. Foran, 50 River street, Oneonta, N. Y.
(Joseph Kilgill, D. & H. Camp street, Oneonta, N. Y.)
D. & H. Camplair, Oneonta, Otsego, N. Y.
William H. Lawton, West Laurens, N. Y.
(Bert H. Sperry, 316 Cedar street, Scranton, Pa.)
Bert Harry Spencer, West Oneonta, N. Y.

The list was received by The Star on Saturday and since that day an investigation has been made of each case to eliminate the possibility of the publication of the name of any man who may have done his duty, but who has been classed as a deserter through some mistake. In several cities this precaution was not taken and as a result the names of men who served honorably during the war, and who in one or two instances made the supreme sacrifice, were published as those of slackers.

Inquiry at 46 Church street revealed the fact that a man had roomed there during the early days of the war and that it was thought that he had enlisted, but not under the name of William Brown. No man by that name was known to the board.

On the list registered from that address, John Burnham roomed at 13 Hunt street during the registration period, but he left soon after and his present whereabouts are not known. The information was obtained from persons living at 46 Church street that a man by the name of Angelo Ciaramella, who was one of his aliases, once lived there and that he was now in Barboursville, Ohio. The people living at 50 River street did not reside there during the war and so have no knowledge of an Arthur L. Foran. No information could be obtained concerning either Joseph Kilgill or William H. Lawton, but it is thought that the former was employed by the D. & H. on construction work and that Lawton worked on the Morris state road.

Bert H. Sperry has been wanted by the local police for some time on a charge of forgery. His present whereabouts are not known.

Before the local Exemption board forwarded their list of draft dodgers to Washington an investigation was made of every case, with the result that the list printed above is much smaller than for the average board. That investigation coupled with that just made, makes it probable that the list contains only the names of those who actually tried to evade service.

Every possible precaution has been taken with the list, but it is, of course, possible that some of the men may have served during the war and have failed to notify the board of that fact. In case any person has information concerning any man on the above list a distinct favor will be done both the government and the man if such knowledge is imparted to The Star so that the man's record may be cleared.

As it is now, the men whose names appear on the list are deserters and may be apprehended by any civil officer and turned over to military authorities.

DELAWARE GRAND JURY

REPORTS THIRTY INDICTMENTS AT OPENING OF COURT MONDAY.

J. Finckle of Stamford, indicted for Assault, Gets Two Years in Auburn Prison—Reality of Marshall Mitchell Sells for $200 Less Than Assessed Valuation.

Delhi, Oct. 31. — The grand jury, which had been in session here for a week and more, reported to the court early this afternoon and handed up 30 indictments, an unusually large number, many of which were for violations of the liquor law and were not made public. Only those in jail at this time were arraigned today. Others are, it is expected, to be brought before Justice Kellogg tomorrow. Those arraigned today are: Charles Dutcher of Shaverstown, indicted on the charge of second degree, he pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,000 bail for trial in county court.

F. Finckle of Stamford, indicted on the charge of assault, was sentenced to Auburn prison for two years by Justice Kellogg. Finckle is the young man who sent out by his employer to instruct a young woman in horseback riding, attempted to commit an assault upon her.

Orson Baker of Walton was indicted on the charge of maintaining a still upon his premises in that township. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,000 bail for trial in county court.

Harry Whitmore and Clarence VanBuren, both of South Kortright, were indicted on the charge of larceny, in connection with the stealing of some automobile tires. Judge Kellogg announced he would defer sentence until a later date, announcing that he desired to consider their cases and to make some personal investigations.

The first case on the calendar for the week was that of Rose M. Arnold against Calvin Dubois and Myron Dubois, the parties residing in Walton, an action to recover for personal injuries sustained in a motor car accident. The case was postponed until later in the term, it appearing that material witnesses for the plaintiff are too ill to appear in court.

No other cases were ready for trial today and the afternoon was occupied in hearing the report of the grand jury and in disposing of the persons arraigned.

On the opening of court Tuesday morning it is expected that the case of Harry Palmer, late proprietor of the Edgerton hotel in this village, against Ray Colburn of Franklin, will be moved for trial. This is an action to recover for damages sustained in a motor car accident.

Mitchell Realty Sold.

Several pieces of realty belonging to the estate of the late Marshall Mitchell, late of this village, were sold from the steps of the court house this morning to close the estate by John C. Stoddard, the administrator of the estate, James O. Donohue, being the auctioneer. The sale included the following:

Store building on Main street in this village now occupied by W. E. Finch, the jeweler, with living apartments on the second floor. It was purchased by Sheriff Wallace L. Vandermark at $2,625.

Two-family house located on Bridge street in Delhi. Purchased by William Stoddard of this village for $400.

Woodlot of 200 acres in the town of Meredith, sold to a Mr. Kippatrick of Meredith for $2,200.

Vacant lot off Main street in this village, back of the jewelry store block mentioned above. Sold to Henry Haynes for $50.

House and lot at the corner of Meredith and Cuddebach avenues in this village, purchased by Mrs. James O'Donohue of this village at $625.

It is interesting to note that the combined selling price of this realty amounted to $200 less than the assessed valuation.

UPPER AND LOWER.

Intuitions of Sleeping Car Accommodations Explained by Station Agent.

He was no traveling man. That much was noticed by a clerk in the city ticket office. "Let me have sleeping car accommodations on the train to New York," said the man approaching the clerk cautiously.

"For a single passenger?" asked the clerk smilingly.

"No," replied the man. "I'm married but I am not taking any one with me. A single shelf will answer, I suppose."

"Upper or lower?" asked the clerk.

"What's the difference?" inquired the passenger.

"A difference of about four dollars," answered the clerk.

"You understand the lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower berth. If you want it lower you will have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower."

"Why do they all ask for the lower?" asked the man.

"On account of its convenience," replied the clerk hastily. "Most persons don't like the upper, although it's lower, on account of it being higher, and because when you occupy an upper you have to get up to your bed and then get down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower although it's higher than the upper, for the reason I have stated, that the upper is lower than the lower, because it's higher. You can have the lower if you pay higher; but if you are willing to go higher it will be lower."

Plural or Singular.

"When I was in town last week," said Avery Goodman of Portlandville in a disappointed tone, "a man up and asks me, 'What are we going to have, beer or wine?'"

"I said that whatever he was drinking, I'd take the same; and then he says, 'I asked what we'd have, not you. If I asked what you'd have, it would be singular.'"

KILLING THE SONG BIRDS

State Conservation Collects $1,400 From October Offenders.

During 19 days in October, game protectors under Inspector Claude Hanson of the conservation commission apprehended 45 offenders for killing 282 song and insectivorous birds and collected over $1,400 in penalties, with 12 cases yet to be decided, the commission reported today.

"The prevention of the destruction of song and insectivorous birds is one of the important duties of the game protectors," the report states. "Few persons realize the great amount of assistance rendered to farmers by these birds in destroying insect pests. Entomologists estimate that insects cause a yearly loss of upwards of $300,000,000 to the agricultural interests of the United States, and were it not for the insectivorous birds, the loss would be much greater. Insectivorous birds are the farmers' best friends, and are protected as fully by the state's game protectors as are any of the game birds. By far the greatest destruction of these birds is in the vicinity of New York city and the great majority of the offenders are foreign born."
